

The spirit of Vienna, reinterpreted through architecture
 Meetings. Conferences. Incentive trips. Functions.

Vienna is waltzes, the Danube, Praterallee, Johann Strauss, Egon Schiele and Gustav Mahler.

But Vienna is much more than that - it's one of the most attractive locations in the world for a meeting. And the Falksteiner Hotel Palace, in the heart of Vienna's 5th District, offers the right hardware and software for your event. As the hardware, we offer a modern city hotel that has conference rooms flooded with natural light, and conference planning that meets the most stringent of requirements. As the software, we offer a highly motivated and professional team that will go the extra mile in planning your event as if it were their own. Your success is our success. This holds for our attractive leisure programming as well as your event, in a world-class city where the entertainment available has long been the equal of New York and London. We will help you be the perfect host, so that you can concentrate on what's important: your guests.
